Dear Florida Physician,

We have received calls from many of you requesting information about how to fulfill your continuing medical education requirements. In an effort to help you locate activities certified for AMA PRA category 1 credit, including live events, internet, and self-study materials, we have compiled a list of online sources.

AMA's Online CME Locator at www.ama-assn.org/go/cme

The AMA CME Locator is a database of over 2,000 AMA PRA Category 1 activities. The CME Locator provides a convenient way for physicians to search for a CME activity based on date, location, or specialty. Click on "Search AMA CME Locator" to start your search.

AMA's Multimedia CME at www.ama-assn.org/go/cme

The AMA produces and distributes both printed self-study monographs and Internet/CD-ROM programs, which are developed in cooperation with medical specialty societies and recognized medical experts. Programs may be available in the following areas: Bioterrorism, Ethics, Respiratory Disorders, Viral STDs, Neurological Conditions, Medical Genetics, Gastrointestinal Disease, Endocrine and Metabolic Disorders, Osteoporosis, Disorders of the Immune System, Connective Tissue, and Joints. Click on "Live Activities/Print Programs" or "Online Programs" to begin.

American Board of Medical Specialties at www.abms.org

Physicians are encouraged to check with their medical specialty societies for CME activities and requirements. Click on "Member Boards" to locate your society.

Other Useful Sites

The following list of sites may be helpful in your search for CME, but are not endorsements:

www.cmesearch.com

www.cmelist.com

www.medscape.com

We appreciate hearing from you, so please contact us with any questions or comments.
